ELLENSBURG

CENTRAL HAS BEST CHEERLEADERS YET

The cheerleaders pictured above have led the student body yells throughout the football season with an excellent display of talent for leadership.

Noted Economist Speaks Tomorrow

Dr. Scott Nearing, noted sociologist and economist, will be on the campus tomorrow to speak before history classes in the morning on the subject "Tragedy of Empire" and in an afternoon session sponsored by the Herodoteans on "Economics and World Peace."

He will speak at the morning sessions of history classes at 11 a. m. The afternoon session will be held at 3 p. m. Dr. Nearing will also speak Friday night at 8 p. m. in the Ellensburg Presbyterian church on the topic "The Economic Conditions Essential to World Peace."

Dr. Nearing, a former teacher at Swarthmore, has been living on a farm the last few years where he has been doing a great deal of writing. He is one of the leading men in his field in the country and is considered a strong liberal. He is the author of a number of books including "The Soviet Union as a World Power."

Home-Ec Club to Send Delegates to Meeting

The province XIII workshop for college Home Economics clubs will hold its annual meeting at Oregon State College on November 21 and 22.

The members of Province XIII are college Home Economics clubs from Oregon, Washington, Montana and Idaho. The workshop is planned to give club representatives a chance to plan club activities and to meet outstanding leaders in Home Economics.

The Central Washington College Home Economics club has selected Mrs. June Hill and Miss Rose Orso as their delegates to the convention. Mrs. Hill will give a short talk on the club's activities and Miss Orso will work on a committee discussion group which is planning to revise the club yearbook.

Miss Mary Blomberg, who is an officer of the workshop, being chairmen of ways and means, will also attend.

NO CRIER NEXT WEEK

Due to the Thanksgiving vacation beginning next Wednesday noon, the Crier will not be printed. The next newspaper will be printed December 11.

ALL COLLEGE RADIO PROGRAM PLANNED

Beginning next quarter, the SGA will sponsor an all college radio program twice a month in the auditorium.

To make this program a complete success, a staff of writers, actors and helpers are needed. Anyone who is interested in working on this program is asked to contact box 465.

The tentative plan for the program will be one of all college participation.

Short skits, jokes and novel ideas will be needed. The program will run along the same pattern each broadcast, but new ideas will be added as often as possible.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT STARTS GLEE CLUB FOR MALE SINGERS

Mr. Hertz, music department head, has started a Men's Glee Club for all males who are interested in singing.

Meetings will be held Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3 to 4 p. m. in M-212. There will be no credits given, but it gives a chance to persons who can't sing and desire to learn, or who can sing and enjoy doing the same.

All athletes and ex-athletes, poor students and good students, vets and non-vets are invited to this informal get-together to sing some good songs.

Thespians Stage Comedy This Week

Practicing will conclude tonight with dress rehearsal for the cast of "Arsenic and Old Lace" by Joseph Kesselring which is to be presented Friday and Saturday night at 8:15 p. m. in the College Auditorium.

The members of the cast have spent every night, Sunday through Thursday and even some Saturday mornings, to present this three-act comedy to the students of C.W.C.E. and people of Ellensburg and others.

The cast of 14 characters includes: Vance Hall, Marjorie Atwood and Gene Gregory, all of Ellensburg; Norman Vanelli, Snoqualmie; John Mumm, Kennewick; Ralph Ruff, Walla Walla; Bill Cable, Sunnyside; John Garney, Snoqualmie Falls; Arloha Shannon, Bellevue; Al Miller, Shelton; Donna McCune, Delbert Pratt, Lloyd Miller, and Don Fenton, all of Tacoma.

This story of charming and innocent ladies who populate their cellar with the remains of socially and religiously "acceptable" roomers; the antics of their dear brother who thinks he is Teddy Roosevelt; and the amazing activities of the other brother played by Boris Karloff and his accomplice Dr. Einstein all make this play a subtle and mysterious drama.

The Facts On the Campus Club

By Esther Sanders

The Campus Club has caused many controversies to arise that can be explained. I admit that the club is not perfect, and we of the student-faculty club committee understand that all problems cannot be dealt with immediately.

First, the Camps Club was purchased by the college for the students use. No money has been taken from the War-Memorial fund. The College is complete owner.

For the convenience of the students, a new hamburger and hot-dog grill have been purchased. They will be installed in the snack bar as soon as possible. The lunches in the snack bar have not been the best; however, measures have been taken to improve both the food and the service.

The furniture for the club cost three thousand dollars. A committee of Miss Redmond, Miss Hoffman and Mr. Fisk purchased the furniture for the club. The furniture is, on the majority, procticable. Some prices, purchased as fill-ins, are elaborate and not too servicable. This committee has worked hard to obtain the furniture. I do not feel that I can criticize their choices.

When the furniture arrives, the old will be placed in storage by the Student Government association for use by organizations at dances and other social functions. A grand opening is planned for the club when all

WILDCATS TO USHER IN 1947-48 HOOP SEASON WITH TWO GAME SERIES AT UBC

The 1947-48 hoop season will get underway for the Wildcats this weekend when they meet a strong University of British Columbia team in a two-game series to be played in the Dominion city Friday and Saturday.

Last year the Thunderbirds were handed two defeats by the Wildcat cagers by margins of 54-40 and 50-44.

Coach Leo Nicholson hopes to have another good season this year and is working toward that objective. Last year the

REGISTRATION DATES FOR NEXT QUARTER ANNOUNCED TODAY

Advance registration for winter quarter will be conducted December 1 to 5.

A priority system which was inaugurated last year will be used again so as to avoid undue congestion and waiting in lines. Graduate students, seniors, and juniors only will register on Monday, December 1. Tuesday, December 2 and the morning of December 3 will be reserved for sophomores. Freshmen, new students will be able to complete their registration beginning Wednesday noon, December 3 and continuing through Friday, December 5.

Any student who is not able to register during the dates December 1 to December 5 may do so on January 5, the regular registration date for winter quarter.

All current bills, as well as registration fees for winter quarter, must be paid before a student can proceed with his registration.

ARAB PHILOSOPHY IS NEXT ASSEMBLY TALK

Col. R. V. C. Bodley, world traveler and lecturer, will appear at next Tuesday's assembly in the college auditorium to speak on the subject "Wind in the Sahara—The Truth About the Arabs."

Col. Bodley, an Englishman, believes that peace of mind can be found by anyone who really wishes to find it. While the nomad Arabs indicated to him the road to their peace, he does not feel that the Sahara deserts are necessary to the formula. In his talk, he describes intimately his life among the Arabs and shows, step by step, how these wanderers brought him to that peaceful state of mind which he still retains.

The author of two well-known books, "The Quest" and "Wind in the Sahara."

Twentieth Century-Fox, motion picture studio, now has in production a story based on his life which is soon to be released.

String Ensemble Elects Art Holcomb President

The String Ensemble of CWC met at the home of Prof. Herbert Bird, the director, Tuesday afternoon, October 21.

A business and social meeting was held. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bird. Officers elected were: Art Holcomb, president; and Lois McKnight, secretary-librarian.

At present the ensemble has nine pieces, but has hopes of acquiring more players. Anyone who is interested in playing, contact Mr. Bird in the music building.

Grades for all quarter will be sent to the student's home address unless the Registrar's office is notified otherwise. Students who want their grades sent to another address are to come to the Registrar's office and address and envelope before October 10, 1947.

Wildcats were co-champions with Eastern in Winco competition. The regular Winco hoop race will not get underway until after the holiday season but several pre-season games have been scheduled.

A definite travelling squad has not been selected as yet but the numerous prospects have been whittled down to a temporary sizeable number of 22 men. In the first few games "Nick" plans to use 10 or 12 men with the idea of getting a line on his best prospects. Thereafter, one club will be used, rather than the two team idea which he used considerably last year.

Coach Nicholson gave an idea of how the lineup is beginning to shape up at present. Fred Peterson and Dean Nicholson look like good prospects for the guard positions, while Chuck Long is handy at forward. These three were starters on last year's co-champion squad.

The other forward position is a tossup between Bob Carlson and Larry Downen who have shown a lot of hustle and spark. Crowding them is Milt Dallman, Jim Adamson and Joe Nygaard.

The pivot spot will have strong competition. Contesting are: Clarence Tiesen, Harold Heritage, Hal Jones, Don Stetson, and Al Wedekind. Teisen, 6' 5", holds a slight edge at present. Pat Glendenning is also in the running, but is out temporarily because of an ankle injury.

"We hope to get the five of the best men on our club and they can stay there by out-hustling the others. This means the men will have to be in first class condition and put out every minute they are playing," quoted Coach Nicholson.

He also emphasized, "I expect the Winco competition to be extremely tough this year and we are working with that idea in mind. To win this year, we will need a strong ball club which is in shape to play an aggressive, driving brand of ball all the way. We hope to have that kind of club."

Three groups have been turning out since the first of the quarter. The group will be further augmented by football squad members who began scheduled turnouts Monday. "Nick" hopes to find some good material in this group.

In addition to the above mentioned, the 22-man squad picked to date includes: Carl Ramburg, Pete Whitson, Ed McBride, Warren Wilson, Fran Broughton, Jack Graham, and Wayne Wright.

NOTICE

Watch your post office box for a questionnaire which will be distributed Saturday morning. Herodoteans, history honorary, wants to know if you, the student body, would be interested in all-school forums on national, international, and local issues. This is your chance to express your views.

A ballot box will be placed by the post office door for your questionnaire. Don't pass it up.

REGISTRAR'S NOTICES

Applications for graduation for this quarter are long overdue. Seniors who plan to graduate in December and who have not yet submitted an application to the Registrar's office, should do so immediately.

They'll Be Talking About Homecoming For Some Time - - Program Was Success

By Doug Poage

After homecoming, everyone seems to be more or less resting from the strenuous activities that were involved in making the program a success. One consolation and reward for the effort put forth for the affair was the many comments from the Alumni that this was the best homecoming they had ever seen.

Homecoming had its official start Thursday evening when the aggressive sophomores and upper-classmen attempted to light the frosh's bonfire. After four students reported to the infirmary with minor injuries, Dean Robert Fisk attempted to intervene. As he neared the pile of lumber and tires, someone threw a bottle of gasoline and splattered it on Dean Fisk's coat. Not realizing he was on fire, he ran from the scene hoping that others would follow suit. After he received his unexpected hair trim, a truce was called and the fight was declared over.

College Inn Receives Mention

Last Friday morning signs and displays were seen at various locations on the campus. Tying for first place honors were: Sue Lombard hall and Kappa Delta Pi. Honorable mention went to the Sophomore class and Kamola hall. Special honorable mention was given to the College Inn for their colorful neon sign.

Queen Crowned

Queen Betty Jo Partridge was crowned by Pres. R. E. McConnell in the college auditorium Friday evening before a capacity filled auditorium. Thirty stunts followed the coronation, all well presented and enjoyed. The Dance club was awarded first prize for the best stunt with Kappa Delta Pi winning second second place, and honorable mention was given to the sophomore class.

Immediately following the program a serpentine was formed in front of the auditorium. The students and alumni marched behind the band while winding their way through the campus. The serpentine ended behind the new gym, where songs and yells were led while the frosh bonfire was burning merrily. The cheer leaders commented that more spirit and enthusiasm was displayed at the bonfire than had ever been shown before.

The parade started at 10 a.m. Saturday morning with 25 floats participating. The Iyoptians were awarded first place for their float with the large football. The junior class received second place, while honorable mention went to the freshman class. The parade started between the auditorium and Kamola hall.

The big event of the homecoming schedule took place at 2 p.m. at the Rodeo field. All know of the results of the game—a 26-2 defeat by the Lutes. During half time the band marched and formed letters signifying the different colleges. Due to a strong wind it was impossible to drop the football from a plane as was planned.

FORMER CWCE STUDENT WED

Miss Lorraine Roberts, of Soap Lake, a former student of Central, is now Mrs. Lawrence D. Peterson. The wedding was held November 2 at Ephrata, where the bride and groom plan to establish a home. A freshman at Central, Lorraine was majoring in Education and minoring in Industrial Arts.

DR. PARK'S BOOKS FOR SALE

Dr. No-Yong Park volunteered to give free copies of his book "Retreat of the West" to anyone purchasing his newest book "White Man's Peace." This book sells for $3.00.

If you are interested in having these two books please leave your $3.00 with Mrs. Shelton, the President's secretary, and she will see that Dr. Park receives your order.

held at Kamola hall dining room. Over 400 alumni and students attended.

Dance Well Attended

The semi-formal dance sponsored by the SGA was attended by a large crowd, who danced to the music of the Gentlemen of Note. Entertainment and refreshments were provided during intermission. It appeared as if many of the alumni and students brought their own refreshments.

Breakfasts were served by various clubs in honor of the Alumni. These breakfasts concluded the Homecoming program.

Credit is due to Tiny Flory and Beverly Cox, co-chairmen for the Homecoming celebration. Credit is also due to the chairmen of the various committees: Jim Brooks, Dave Marsh, Pat Patillo, Jim Paulson, Chuck Zaffaroni (Frosh from Roslyn—The Crier is never wrong), Monty Flesher, Marie Nelson and Virginia Colby.

MUNSON HALL TO HOLD FIRESIDE

Chuck Knechtel, social commissioner of Munson Hall announced that there will be a Munson Fireside in the new Munson lounge Saturday, November 22. This fireside will be for the members of the Hall and their dates. The evening will consist of dancing and various games. Coffee, cookies and punch will be served as refreshments.

Professors Speak Education Meeting

Dr. Charles W. Saale, professor of education, and Dr. Lyman Jart-ridge, associate professor of speech, both of this college were featured speakers at the Klickitat County Institute and Education association meeting, which was held last Friday in Goldendale.

The title of the address given by Dr. Partridge was "Speech Correction." Dr. Saale spoke on "The Development of Education In Our Culture." Dr. Partridge also participated in a discussion of speech correction in the elementary school. Dr. Saale addressed a group on classroom teachers.

The meeting was held in the Goldendale high school. Speakers from all parts of the state were included on the agenda.

"I'm sorry," said the elevator girl. "Did I stop to abruptly?" "Oh no," said the disgruntled passenger, "I always wear my pants down there."

Fourteen CWC Students Selected For College and University Who's Who

CWC is represented in the 1948 edition of Who's Who Among students in American Colleges and Universities by fourteen students selected on the basis of scholarship, campus activities and character.

The following students were selected: John Beck, Betty Jo Partridge, Forrest Keyes, Pat Casey Miller, Jo Ann Colby Harris, Dwight Dart, Betty Byars, Rose Orso, Mary Blomberg and Shirley Beck.

Two students included in last year's edition, will be repeated again in the 1948 book, June Bach Hill and Harry Flesher.

Voice—How do you feel this morning?

Second Voice—Fine.

Voice—Sorry, I have the wrong number.

Mother (putting junior to bed)—Shhh—the sandman is coming.

Junior—Fifty cents and I won't tell daddy.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Psychology is a required subject in many college courses. It should be as much a required subject for all Freshmen as English now is.

To learn how to live is certainly as important as to learn how to make a living. Many of us were brought up in homes which did not have the background or training that our intelligence requires for a satisfactory and better judgment to our new surroundings.

Children are still being raised much like they were a century ago. We are people living in a highly scientific world. We are human beings that seek and require more information on how to control and direct our urges and emotions. We should know the consequences that we may suffer for lack of the opportunity to study and to put to practical use the things learned.

We wish to become successful men and women but many still refuse to find and correct faults in their training and behavior. Our lives are full of conflicts brought about in this way and we should learn how to deal with them.

Serious Conflict

There is a very serious conflict manifested daily on our campus which can only lead to unhappiness and low grades for many former service men if not realized and handled accordingly. The service man is three to five years the senior of many of the girls on the campus in age and in most cases more, in mental maturity. He is continually in contact, nevertheless, with those girls in his classes and social life. Due to the type of life many led while in the service, they now lack initiative and responsibility in many things.

They would like to be more serious and act their age but they cannot elevate their companions of the other sex to their level of maturity (which is no fault of yours, fair ones!) and hence they try to think along the lower level. They want to be a lot of fun, good sports, good company, appreciated and loved; but find an unseen and unknown barrier between.

If they succeed in crossing this barrier, they may get along or they may seem funny to that girl. They also may make a perfect fools of themselves for their age. They lose a certain amount of their manhood by so doing. If they do not succeed, they may seem aloof, seek the company of those of their own age, or to forget their frustration in companionship at Sid's. They have a conflict which cannot be avoided.

Offers Solution

There is only one intelligent solution and that is for each individual finding himself in this position, to analyze and correct his own emotions. There is nothing wrong with being grown up. There is nothing wrong in enjoying the company of those younger than oneself. The only wrong is to not realize why your ideas and emotions conflict with hers. Think and make allowances accordingly. Don't sublimate your manliness for you will need all of it and more for success. Act your age. If you cannot then agree with that "sweet young thing," it might be far better to disagree. Try to study a little more and find your happiness by closer companionship with someone nearer your own age. Don't defeat your purpose—you are here to learn to live a better life.

C. H. KNECHTEL.

Dear Ed:

There is a deep grievance that is bothering myself and all of the other boys that have girl friends at Sue Lombard. It is the unfair policy that the house mother's have in regards to the places for seeing the "Light of Your Life." At Kamola, the men may go into the sitting room after 9:30. It is a good time, for after a hard session at the library, one may continue his studies in a warm place under the supervisory eye of a nice house mother.

At Sue Lombard, if you come into the dorm after 7:30 you can only stay five minutes. Last year there was an article in the Campus Crier about the terrible way the students kissed their girl friends good night in front of the dorms. It was said that it left a bad influence on the citizens of Ellensburg.

Everybody agrees that it not a good policy, but what is the school doing about it. If they put more lights in front of the dorms, I, for one, can say good night on 8th street just as well. If they would open up the cold formal atmosphere of Sue, the goodnights would be short and sweet. Otherwise a person must keep warm on the first porch by various and sundry methods. If the house mother's at Sue object to having their girls kissed goodnight, they can either wear blinders or earmuffs or both.

BENNY.

Cloves are dried, unopened flower buds.

TRUTH ANONYMOUS

To "Loverboy" Sherwood
The stars did shine—the moon did pine
'Twas behind the gym—at half past nine.
Sherwood with his many charms—had a girl in his two arms.
She looked into his dreamy eyes—parted her lips and gave two sighs
What happened is too good to write
Go there and watch him any night.

Al Green of Carmody must have a way with the parents. He talked a certain mother and father into sending their daughter to Central for safe keeping over the homecoming week-end.

This Tolo Week business hit its climax when this letter hit the Truth Anonymous column last Saturday. I quote:

"Frank:
I'm breaking our date for this week-end as it is the proper thing to do. Just don't ask me any questions and you can go your way and I can go mine. Doris unquote."
Frank, you have been a bad boy.

If Donna McCune and Bill Cable peek out from between the pillars at Sue Lombard, they wouldn't get hit by flying snow from the hands of Wanda Riddle. Can't you keep her entertained, Bill?

Any man can drink, but it takes a good man to carry it home.
Ain't that right Dave?

Everybody is in a dither about that "Damn" good joke the faculty censored in George Linde's newscast for Alford Hall at stunt night. Pass it around, George.

This week's tomato can medal with cabbage leaf cluster goes to the four couples that insist on using the last five minutes before ten-fifteen to good advantage in the girls dorms. Why stand outside and freeze?

LYOPTIAN CLUB COLLECTING OLD CLOTHING FOR EUROPE

The Iyoptians began an old clothes drive last Monday for the benefit of families in France and Greece. The Intercollegiate Knights are helping by soliciting old clothing in the men's dorms.

All clothes must be clean and in fair condition. Winter clothes and old shoes are especially needed. There is someone in each dorm assigned to pick up all donations Saturday morning. The Iyoptians also plan to take gifts to the Nursing Home for Thanksgiving.

KAPPA PI

At a formal initiation in the East Room at Sue Lombard October 30, the following new members were initiated into Kappa Pi; Hazel Schmale, Esther Sanders, Beth Banko, Neil Koch, Vern Siegner, John Davis, Donald Wade, Mary Ellen Clerf and Alexander MacDougall. Refreshments were in the form of a surprise birthday cake for Miss Spurgeon.

During Homecoming, the Club participated in Stunt Night, winning second prize for its skit and tied first with Sue Lombard for its sign.

Thursday at 4 o'clock an informal tea was held in the Ivory Room for Mr. Felix Payant.

THE FACTS

It is evident that the Crier needs to clarify its policy for the benefit of those persons who do not understand it.

Our conception of a student newspaper is one that encourages independent thinking by the students. For that reason our policy is to print all signed student opinions that seem to be legitimate, and to give to the student a complete and accurate coverage of the news.

The editorial policy of The Crier is to provide a means to which we can attempt to voice the students' opinions. The editor writes what he thinks are the most pertinent ideas and attempts to offer suggestive criticism and ideas as to how the college and student life can be improved.

This college newspaper is paid for by the students through the Student Government Association and advertising; therefore it is a student-owned newspaper. It is the duty of the editors and the advisor to deem what news and statements shall be printed.

We attempt to be fair and unbiased in all newscoverage. Certain persons feel that news from their departments is purposely deleted. We cannot cover all the news; it is encouraged that every faculty member and student submit news they feel should be in this paper.

JERROL'S COLUMN

The students were given a chance to express their gripes and grievances through Jerrol's column in The Crier. Besides receiving a chance to blow off steam, they were given five dollars for the best letter each week.

Up to and including this date, The Crier has received ten letters.

Jerrol's reason for sponsoring this column was to encourage the students to express their views and think for themselves. They thought with encouragement and help, many of the problems and gripes around school could be openly expressed and solved.

The column has been discontinued because of the small response.

Gripes will continue, but nothing will be done about them. DOESN'T ANYONE HAVE THE NERVE TO OPENLY STATE WHAT HE THINKS?

Newspapers Available For Students

Did you know that you can find almost any high school or college newspaper published in the state in the Campus Crier office?

Through the exchange, we trade newspapers with these schools. The purpose of this exchange is to enable the students to read the papers from their former high schools and colleges.

If you are interested in reading these papers, drop up to The Crier office anytime. We have them placed on racks for your convenience.

Come up anytime and make yourself at home!

AWS Making Plans For Snowball Tolo

The Associated Women Students Council are making plans for their annual formal tolo, the Snowball. Until the plans are completed, the girls will give out no advance information except to state emphatically that it is going to be "the biggest and the best" ever given.

Meanwhile, girls, you might keep your eye out for the man of your dreams and if you find him, invite him before the other girls have a chance because this formal is definitely a tolo.

SPURGEON'S PAINTING SHOWN

A painting entitled, "Strange Scene—Mexico," by Miss Sara Spurgeon of the art department which was entered in the 33rd annual Northwest Art Exhibit at the Seattle Art Museum this year has been included in the selection to be shown in various cities throughout the state.

VETVILLE NEWS

By MRS. DAVE HART

The week following homecoming was a quiet week for Vetville.

Visiting relatives in Seattle for the week-end were the Harold Peltonens. Also visiting in Seattle were the Don Broughtons. They brought back a favorable report on Bill Pethdal's condition. He has had a serious eye operation and is getting along fine now.

Mrs. Bud Dennis and son, Douglas, are back in Vetville. She has been working in Wenatchee and has been living with her parents in Entiat.

Vetville has been watching with interest it's first citizen to enter kindergarten at the College Elementary School. He is Freddie Alexander, 5-year-old son of the Clark Alexanders.

Mrs. Jim Clemens has been visiting her parents in Snohomish the past week.

Leroy Weber's mother, Mrs. C. L. Weber of Paulsbo, was their guest last week.

Visiting the Earling Oaklands was his mother, Mrs. Marie Orkland of Everett.

Girls' Activity Cards Needed For Faculty

All Senior and Junior girls are asked to come to the Dean of Women's office to fill in their activity cards. Since these cards are used by faculty members when writing out recommendations, it is important to have them up-to-date before the end of this quarter. The hours from 2 to 5 p.m. on any week day are the best hours to use for this purpose.

SVARE, BLEDSOE ATTEND COLLEGE A. W. S. CONVENTION

The Associated Women Students of the University of Washington were hostesses to the second annual conference for College Day Coordinators on November 14 and 15. Representing the local AWS at the meeting were Betty Svare, president, and Nella Bledsoe, college day chairman.

The purpose of the conference was to plan for the annual "College Day" to be held in the various high schools of the state. The first meeting of this kind was held last autumn in Pullman, and as a result of plans made there, the AWS girls throughout the state visited their own high schools and conferred with seniors about the problems of college entrance.

On Friday the conference delegates were welcomed by a tea held in Clark Hall. On Saturday a review of last years College Day program was given and plans made for the current year, which include delegations of AWS girls to visit their own high schools during the college spring vacation.

The principal speakers were Joan Campbell, AWS president of the University of Washington, and Gerry Krum, State College Day chairman. Harold Adams gave the reactions of the high schools and commended the girls for the fine work they were doing in getting pertinent information about college to interested high school seniors.

The conference closed with a banquet held in the University Commons, Riatt Hall. The guest speaker was Miss Lee Saunders, acting associate director of students.

"Head-a-Hopper" Hat Show Held at Dames Club Party

A "Head-a-Hopper" hat show was the event of the last Dames club meeting held in the CES social rooms, Nov. 11.

Each girl who attended made her own hat, named it, and wore it. Everything from a "Coniferous Catastrophe" to a "Turkey In the Straw" was worn.

Prizes were given for the most ridiculous hat and for the hat most likely to reach Sac's Fifth Ave., display window.

Mrs. Harold Peltonen won the prize for the most ridiculous hat, which she appropriately named "Silex Sombrero." Winning the prize for the hat most likely to reach Sac's was Mrs. Dave Hartl who named her creation "Christmas Frost." This hat could be described as a "throwing together" of the Christmas tree decorations and toned down by swirls of angel's hair.

Following the hat show and business meeting, refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served by the wives living in the "Isolation" unit of Vetville.

GIRLS' PEP CLUB

Due to the higher enrollment at CWC this year, the Girls' Pep Club has increased its membership to 50 instead of the usual 30 members. Presiding officers of the club are: President—Colleen Cameron— Vice President—Helene Mataya; Secretary—Marie Nelson; Treasurer—Norma Nelson; Peptorian—Charlotte Roe.

Under the instruction of Miss Mogensen, plans have been made to organize a drill team composed of members of the club to perform at the basketball games this winter.

Trumpeteers In College Assembly

The Ritz Trumpeteers under the direction of Mr. Ben Ritzenthaler of Hollywood presented a musical program to the students of Central Washington last Tuesday morning in an all-college assembly.

The program was made up of selections from the classics and special arrangements of old and familiar melodies. The unique arrangements and instrumentation added a new charm to the program.

The ensemble was made up of trumpet, bassoon, clarinet, saxophone, two trombones and a piano, with several of the musicians doubling on several instruments. In addition to their music, the players contributed frequent vocal selections.

Under the direction of Mr. Ritzenthaler, the ensemble has made many trans-continental tours playing in every state in the union.

Prior to organizing his own ensemble, Mr. Ritzenthaler toured the United States with such organizations as Al Sweet's Singing Band, and Johnson's Chicago Cadets. He was also a former teacher of reed instruments at several colleges.

WEDNESDAY MIXER SAME ROUTINE

The mixer of November 12, was supposed to have been a tolle affair in honor of Sadie Hawkins week; however, it didn't seem to work out that way. A few brave souls asked boys to dance but it was mostly the same routine.

A large crowd attended, mostly out of curiosity.

SUE LOMBARD NEWS

By CAROLE DOMANO

There is never a lack of news at Sue Lombard. It seems that the girls love each other so much that they are always throwing parties for their friends.

Biggest event of the week was a popcorn party in honor of Lee Gaviano who was celebrating her second anniversary. At 9:15 p. m., November 13, she had had her engagement ring for two months. Her guests were: Leota Olney, Ruby Gohmer, Esther Sanders, and Joy Lindberg.

Room 356 was the scene of pillow fights, cokes, crackers, and pickles galore as the inmates of that room held a slumber party on the night of November 10. Nine girls, who all slept on mattresses on the floor, were: Helen Kreiter, Marie Ramquist, Hazel Gibbons, Pat Hodge, Carole Romano, Gail Ferrell, Madeline Fitzgerald, and Pat Green.

Our profound apologies go to Chuck Roe, who celebrated her 18th birthday November 3, and we forgot to mention it. Her mother sent her a roast chicken and she ate it all herself.

Lois Wade had two friends from Thorp visiting her last weekend. Glenna Ritchey and Joanne Summers. Both Friday and Saturday nights parties were held in their honor with Mary Lou Dunn, Kathy Sandstrom, and Murial Hatfield as guests.

Two other visitors last weekend were Margie Holstrom from Seattle and Odrun Davidson from Bellevue, who were, so to speak, guests of the whole third floor.

Speaking of visitors, Alice Meyers and Gloria Woodbury found one in their room and, after much consideration, decided to adopt it. His name is Harvey who is a little baby mouse.

Anyone who has news from Sue, are reminded to take it to room 372.

"Does your husband still find you entertaining?"
"Not if I can help it."

INVITATION IS EXTENDED

An invitation is extended to all students on November 20, 21 and 22 by Intervarsity Christian Fellowship for enlightenment and furtherance of Christian knowledge. Mr. Herbert Netsch, regional director, will speak on Thursday and Friday nights, November 21 and 22 at 7 p. m. in the Music Auditorium. He will gladly counsel anyone, by appointment, concerning religious problems.

On Saturday, November 22 at 8 p. m., Intervarsity is sponsoring a City Youth Rally in the Music Auditorium. Bob Reese, well known Yakima businessman and speaker, will speak. Everyone is invited.

CAPT. OSGOOD NOMINATED FOR ALL-WINGO HONORS; FRANK SVOBODA MENTIONED

Captain Bob Osgood for all-conference is being heard on the tongues of all Central Washington College sporters this week as the conference coaches prepare for their annual balloting to determine who is to receive the Winco football honor positions for the 1947 season.

All the coaches, teammates, students, and fans that saw this scrappy, hustling guard in action are confident that this junior from Elma well deserves a top position on the all Washington Intercollegiate conference team.

Coach Monte Reynolds expresses the opinion of all the players who are "Ozzie's" teammates when he says, "Osgood is one of the smartest football players I ever had the privilege to coach. He not only knows his own position well but helps everyone else too, when possible. He uses his head and puts all his heart into the game."

Osgood has been right in there pitching for 60 minutes of rugged football every game of the season. He played the last two games of the season with a shoulder injury but spirit and determination carried him through both of these two games with flying colors as he proved that he was not licked and was out to win.

Bob continually scampered through the line to take out any interference that might be hampering the backfield players. On several occasions he made consecutive tackles behind the line of scrimmage to stop an opposing drive. In addition to this he was always right in there to recover any possible fumbles. He made it possible for the defeat of St. Martins by recovering one on the two yard line in the closing minutes of that contest.

Athletic Director Leo Nickolson had only words of praise for the man he believes to be one of the best guards in the conference. "Osgood has size, spirit and ability; he has everything that is required of a good guard, fire, hustle and he is smart," stated Nicholson. This is the first year he has not played on a championship team.

Although Osgood is the unanimous hope for Central to place a man on the all-conference team Frank Svoboda, hard charging 60 minute fullback, has a good chance to come out with a rating in the honor selections.

Svoboda, also from Elma, has come through with more than his share of help in every game and made a 90 yard run against Western that would have meant a winning margin had the play not been called back.

He leads the Central team with yardage gained from scrimmage and has intercepted six passes and has helped put Central out of the hole numerous times. He starred on defense continually.

Yes, Bob and Frank are two boys that the Central team was glad to be playing with, rather than against.

Wildcats Drop Last Tilt of Season, 6-0

The big Red and Black team of Central Washington suffered a muddy and final 6-0 defeat at the hands of the Eastern Oregon Mountaineers last Saturday, as the gridiron season came to a close for the Wildcats.

Outplaying the visitors for the first three quarters, the Wildcats had the breaks turn against them in the last period. The Eastern Oregon team capitalizing on an intercepted pass and a 15-yard penalty for roughness, moved deep into Central's territory. Unable to stop the Mountaineers' drive the 'Cats staged a terrific goal line stand and almost succeeded in halting Eastern Oregon's advance, but a fourth down plunge from the one-yard line, gave the Mountaineers the games only touchdown.

A field of oozing black mud handicapped the offensive thrusts of both teams. The wet and slippery footing slowed down the running backs and made the handling of the ball very difficult. Fumbles were predominate throughout the game and cost Central several scoring opportunities.

In the first quarter, after a series of exchanged punts, the Wildcats started the first sustained drive of the game. Russ Victor returned a quick kick 9 yards to the Central 39. The first play, a pass was completed for two yards. Svoboda, Central fullback, then plunged through the line, picking up seven yards. The next play, a quarterback sneak, gave the 'Cats a first and ten.

The second quarter started with the Wildcats still on the offensive. A wide end run moved the ball down to Eastern Oregon's 29-yard line and gave Central another first and ten, but here the Wildcats drive fizzled out as the Mountaineers intercepted a wild pass.

Oregon failed to gain on their first series of plays and was forced to kick. The muddy 'Cats taking the ball on the Eastern 35 again started down field. Central, running plays through the right side of the Oregon line produced another first down on the opponents 25-yard line. At this point another bad Central pass was intercepted by the Mountaineers and the Wildcats threat was halted.

Central had several more chances to score in the second period but fumbles lost them every chance. The half ended with the score still 0-0 as a try for a field goal by Bill Langenbacher was blocked.

The third quarter was a repetition of the preceeding two periods. Neither team was able to get a long drive under way, or even threaten the opposing teams goal line.

The fourth quarter proved disastrous to the Central Washington Wildcats as Eastern Oregon climaxed a 67-yard drive by punching over the games only score.

Jim Satterlee and Bob Osgood were outstanding on line play, with Svoboda, Victor and Dorr showing up well in the backfield.

Starting the game for Central were: Hill, Bonjorni, Osgood, Vannelli, Thomson, Hake, Keyes, Victor, Langenbacher, Bartlett, Svoboda.

SPORT TALK

FROM THE SPORT BULL SESSIONS

By GERALD VARNER

Bob Osgood for all-conference. Central's captain, he has played 60 minutes of hard football and has been the mainstay in the Cat line every game of the season. Yes sir, Ozzie has been right in there and if he doesn't make it—well he should have a good chance anyway.

A million cheers for the junior varsity! They've been turning out and having lots of fun all season even though they did have only three games this year. The kids had a crack at some good experience and many of them should be seen on the varsity next year. Their performance against a larger team last Saturday was one of the neatest that the few fans that saw it have witnessed this season.

Numerous comments have been floating around about the nice coaching job executed by Lyle Kinney at the J. V. game last week. Coach Arne Faust had gone to a Physical Education meeting in Walla, Walla and left this student assistant coach in charge. Kinney starred at the end position for Central for three years before agreeing to assist in the Jayvee coaching this year. He will graduate this quarter.

This writer overheard a remark from one of the Pacific Lutheran rooters that the Cenral players weren't being paid for their football duties for dear old CWCE. Coach Reynolds could answer that one for you. And the answer that he would probably give you is that the players represent the school and that the school does NOT engage in the sport for profit but to give the players and students a clean form of extra activities. Most of the players plan to be coaches and this affords perfect training for them along this line. If the students can't enjoy this recreation for its true value as a college sport the game may as well be discontinued.

Rumors have it that your sports editor is being sharply criticized for being "plain spoken" about some of his policies by some members of a certain organization on the Campus. Would the person or persons who beg to differ with one man's opinion be plain spoken in return so that the fire can "burn out" in the open and let other interested persons know what the score is, huh?

The University of Washington's string of moral victories was snapped last week as a merciless Bruin machine rolled over them for a 34 to 7 score. Incidentally, the only Husky

EASTERN, PLC TIED, NEW WINCO CHAMPS

The final roundup in the Washington Intercollegiate conference finds Eastern Washington and Pacific Lutheran at the top and the new co-champions. Eastern defeated Western in Bellingham by a field goal to assure themselves of the tie while PLC was taking care of Whitworth to the tune of 27 to 12.

They took over the championship from the Central Washington defending champs who managed to end up in fourth place behind Western.

The only spot that mars either Eastern's or PLC's record in Winco competition this year is that seven to seven tie played between these two schools in Cheney some weeks ago.

STOCKDALE SHOWS PICTURES

Mr. Tom Stockdale of Vantage was speaker at the meeting of Whitbeck club held Monday, November 17, at the home of Dr. R. M. Shaw.

Mr. Stockdale described and showed Kodachrome slides of his two power-boat trips in the quiet and fast waters of the Columbia river.

score came as the result of a blocked punt being recovered in the end zone.

Some unidentified person made the remark that the sports section was the most improved part of the Campus Crier but that it still had plenty of room for advancement. Oh well, maybe this person isn't a leader of men and has no followers.

The word was floating around the Campus last week that the student body was very disgusted because there was no paper. Thanks for missing it folks, but why don't you put some of your gripes in writing so that they may be aired via the press and then an answer can be given and everyone will know the score. That's a challenge.

The "Know Your Players" column has been discontinued because the season is over and perhaps now the slogan should be "Forget Your Players." A few of the boys were gipped but had there been an issue last week all the guys would have made the deadline before the season ended. Sorry, guys and gals.

Our idea of a lazy student is one who pretends he is drunk so that his roommates will put him to bed.

Wildcats Drubbed In Homecoming

The Pacific Lutheran Gladiators took advantage of the breaks and their superior power as they raced over the Wildcats in a homecoming tilt at the Rodeo Field Nov. 8.

The 'Cats became the second team to score on the undefeated but twice tied Gladiators this season when Bob Osgood and Jack Hawkins tackled Frank Spear behind the goal line midway in the final stanza in the 26 to 2 drubbing.

The Lutes scored in every quarter except the first as they racked up 12 first downs to 5 for the home team. They outgained the Central gridders on the ground from scrimmage 176 yards to 106. The Parkland outfit connected with 7 passes out of 17 attempts for a net yardage of 57 while the 'Cats made 4 out of 22 good for 61 yards.

Five pass interceptions and three bad punt attempts put the Wildcats in the hole numerous times as the Lutes made good four of their breaks. Frank Svoboda was on the receiving end of two Lute flings as he tried to even up the score in this department.

Three long passes spearheaded Central's longest extended drive early in the fourth quarter but the drive faded out as interference was called against Central when Jim Satterlee snagged one of Langenbacher's flings in the end zone. The three passes starting from the 22 went from Doran to Carmody, Langenbacher to Edwards, and Carmody to Victor.

J.V.'s Drop From Undefeated List

The previously unbeaten and unscored upon Wildcat "B" squad took it on the chin as they came out on the short end of a 12 to 7 score against a much heavier Sand Point Navy team at the Rodeo Field last Friday afternoon.

The Jayvees had previously won from the Yakima J. C. 6 to 0 and from the Fort Worden eleven by the score of 41 to 0.

The Kittens showed fire and determination all the way as they battled against a more experienced team on a slippery field.

Schooler scored the only tally for the home team when he received a touchdown pass from Ralph Sherwood early in the fourth quarter after the Navy Seahawks had struck in the second and third quarters to take the lead. Malmassori made the conversion good for Central.

The Kittens threatened in every quarter but were unable to get through the Navy line for those additional needed yards. The Seahawks scored their two tallies on passes thrown by Matlock to Wade and Matlock to Turco.

Central made a total of 10 first downs to seven for the opponents and gained a total net yardage of 261 to 212 for the Navy. Paced by Ralph Sherwood, the Kittens completed five passes good for 75 yards. The pass receivers were Houser, Angerman, Schooler and Larson.

Drittenbas was the leading ground gainer for Central going 62 yards in 17 attempts. Schooler and Shelton had a punting average of 37 yards.

AWS SCHOLARSHIPS FOR 1947 GRANTED

Joyce Crowe, Kamola, and Mary Kryger, Off-Campus, have received checks for twenty-five dollars from the Associated Women Students. Last spring these two ladies were selected for the twenty-five dollars cash scholarship awards given annually on Mother's Day to a dormitory girl and an off-campus girl.

The awards are based on scholarship and character, and are limited to girls who are at least partially self-supporting. Also, they are contingent on the girls' return to the campus the following fall. This accounts for their being presented at this time.

The Wesley Foundation of the First Methodist Church invites all interested college students to meet with them at 5:30 Sunday evening for a dine-a-mite supper. Dr. A. J. Foy Cross of CWC will be the guest speaker. The subject of his talk will be "The Philippines Before and After the War." Devotion will be lead by Hazel Gibbon.
